

Worksheet 177 - Building your business vision

Vision. It's something that business gurus love to endlessly prattle on about.

But what does a business vision really mean?

Today on the show we talk about some practical steps you can use to build your vision.

We're really passionate about this topic because it is so important to creating a successful business.

If this is something you haven't done yet today is a great opportunity to start!

Know your goals

The first step should be to write down a 3 year goal.

Anything more than that is pure fantasy.

Business changes so much, so quickly that 3 years is the absolute limit you'll be able to plan for.

There are many ways to be build your vision.

Half the battle is actually getting something down on paper.

Here are some things you should include:

How much income do you want to be earning?

What team do you need to achieve those goals?

How much time do you need to spend?

1

Make it short and achievable

The worst thing you can do is write something down and never look at it.

Have this document handy and make sure it's short and readable.

Have your yearly goals written down on a single piece of paper.

Every single decision should be about achieving that goal.

Write down your 3 year goal then break it down into 1 year increments.

Learn more by ordering the book

Whether you want to have a large company or a small lifestyle business, you must pay attention to the legal aspects right from the start.

The Business Legal Lifecycle is a handbook for you to use in your business on a regular basis.

The key areas that Jeremy Streten covers in the Business Legal Lifecycle are:

How to successfully set up your business

Why and when you need to pay attention to the legal aspects of your business

Who you should consult with along your business journey

